AG Quick Ticket®

AG Quick Ticket is a web-based life insurance application that allows American General Life's valued distribution partners to spend more time taking care of customers and less time filling out applications.

Producers can access and complete an online application via www.agquickticket.com or through eStation, American General Life's producer business resource center that provides access to product and client information. Once submitted, the application information is electronically transferred to ExamOne. ExamOne will perform a tele-interview for complete Part A and Part B information, obtain wet signatures from the client, and submit the Part A and Part B applications and all ancillary forms to American General Life for processing.
